Joe Mixon Gets a Worse Punishment on a New Trial.

HILLSBORO, Tex., Nov. 15.—The jury in the Joe Mixon case returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and fixed his punishment at 25 years in the penitentiary. Mixon was indicted for the killing of Ben Mooring near Hubbard in 1893. He was tried a year ago and got two years in the penitentiary. He took an appeal and one of the grounds of appeal was that the indictment was invalid in that it failed to specify the instrument with which the killing was done. On this the case was reversed.

The grand jury being in session, promptly returned another bill and he was rearrested. When the case was called the counsel for the defense entered a plea of former acquittal, which was overruled by Judge Hall. Mixon will appeal.

DEMANDS OF SPRECKLES MONEY.

An Insane Man Attacks the Sugar King For Gold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, was visited by an insane man here who demanded $300,000 in gold. The man, who gave the name of C. W. Lockland, demanded that the money be given him in return for damages received while working on a railroad of which Spreckles is president. He was immediately arrested. Lockland is a well dressed young man and was a guest at the Palace hotel.

THE POPULIST VOTE.

Returns Slow but Sure.—A Good Showing for the Party.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 8.—Populists routed the republicans in a majority of the counties of this state. The large city of Leadville, which went republican last year went sweeping for the populists. The populists carried 21 counties in the state and got several offices in other counties.

From Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Notwithstanding adverse reports of the enemies of populists this party has made decided gains throughout the state. At present it looks like populists will get 100,000 votes against 49,000 last year, thus making heavy gains over last year.

From Nebraska.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—Papers just received from Nebraska bring glad tidings of great gains everywhere, lies to the contrary notwithstanding.

Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kansas, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The fight in this (Shawnee) county, the stronghold of the republicans, was on the office of sheriff. Bob Kepley, who ran as an independent, defeated Dave Burge, republican, by over 200 votes. The Topeka Capital (Rep.) before the election had the following:

"If you want to handicap the republican state campaign in '96 vote for Bob Kepley for sheriff."

"The election of a pop sheriff in Shawnee county means thousands of pop votes in the state next November."

"There will be pop bonfires from Doniphan to Morton county if Dave Burge is defeated to-day. But he won't be defeated; paste that in your hat and then go to the polls and make it good."

Many other counties throughout the state were redeemed by the populists. There seems to be a united effort on the part of that worst of monopolies, the associated press, and big dailies to suppress the populist returns.

THIRD IN THE RACE.

Will be Democracy, so Says Congressman George Pendleton of Belton.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 14.—(Special)—Congressman George C. Pendleton of Belton was here to-day. In speaking to a Gazette correspondent on matters political, he said:

"Unless the democrats come together; and that does not seem probable judging from the recent results in the elections, the democratic party in the next election for president will be third in the race. I mean by this statement that the party will receive the smallest vote. The republicans will be first, the populists second and the democrats third. The fact, in my opinion, is that our party will not carry a state north of Mason and Dixon's line and but precious few south of it.

"What reason do I assign for this? There is more than one reason. The principal one, however, is Mr. Cleveland's attitude on the silver question. Another reason is that the opponents of democracy have credited the democratic party with 'hard times,' an accusation which is not true, but which the democrats will be unable to refute before the time for the next presidential election rolls around. The great trouble at present with the democratic party is that there is too much discord in the ranks. We are divided among ourselves. If we had remained united we would probably have become victorious but divided it is enevitable for us to fall. Unity is what we need and unity is what the democratic party must have to again be in control."

Mr. Pendleton announces that he will positively not be a candidate for renomination and election to congress.

The Gaines Trial

The trial of W. R. Gaines for the killing of his brother-in-law, Chas. Kock, in Sherman last summer has elicited much attention throughout the state, especially in and around McKinney where all parties to the unfortunate affair are well known. Chas. Koch, the murdered man, and his sister Mrs. Gaines, wife of his slayer, were orphan children who lived several years with kind friends about six miles east of McKinney where they grew to young manhood and womanhood. The devotion of the orphaned brother and sister to each other was remarked upon by every one who knew them. In this community Gaines wooed and won the heart of his bride. The inheritance of Koch's and his sister's large fortune soon after her marriage to Gaines is still a matter of occasional gossip and comment among the people who also have known of the friction existing between Koch and his brother-in-law. Charlie was a kind-hearted boy who had probably departed from his more docile traits of character after inheriting his fortune but nevertheless his tragic death cast a pall of sadness over the hearts of all his old-time boyhood friends in this section.

After a most exciting trial in the district court of Grayson county, Judge Bliss presiding, Gaines was declared guilty by a jury of his peers, as reported in last issue of The Democrat, of murder in the first degree and punishment against him assessed at imprisonment for life. Gaines was defended by the ablest legal talent at the bar, his council consisting of Judge R. R. Hazlewood, Hon. C. H. Smith, Judge P. B Muse, Capt. J. D. Woods of Sherman, Col. I. M. Standifer of Denison and Hon. M. H. Garnett of McKinney. But all the efforts of his zealous attorneys availed him naught unless, mayhap, they saved his neck. So unless the higher courts to which his case will be appealed, sets aside this verdict Chas. Koch's murderer will atone for his crime in penal servitude during the remaining years of his blighted life.

PERISHED IN A FIRE.

Three Persons Lose Their Lives in a Detroit Building.

DETROIT, Nov. 18.—Another fire, attended with terrible fatalities, occurred at 3:30 Saturday morning when the factory of the Improved Match company at Belleyne avenue and Frederick street, burned and three lives were lost.

The dead are:

Reuben Davis, night fireman.

John Wagner, night watchman.

Agnes Yettne, 17-years-old.

The factory had been working day and night. At 3:30 o'clock a shift of 30 hands were busily employed when the fire suddenly started, probably by friction. The flames spread with great rapidity. All employes except the above escaped, but some had narrow calls.

Davis and Wagner, assisted by the Yettne girl, secured the firehose and attempted to put out the fire. Before they were aware of their danger the flames sprung up all around them and they were unable to escape.

The bodies of Davis and Miss Yettne were recovered, burned beyond recognition.

The building, machinery and stock destroyed was valued at $60,000. Insured for $6000. The Improved Match company is a new concern, not in the trust, and was organized by a number of Detroit citizens and filed articles of incorporation only last week.

SANTA FE DEPOT ROBBED.

Two Maskedmen Compel the Agent at Colorado Springs to Open the Safe.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 13.—The express office at the Santa Fe depot in this city was robbed of $20,000 Monday night. Immediately after the departure of the night express at 5:42 George Krout, the express agent, stepped from the platform into his office and was confronted by two masked men who leveled revolvers at his head and ordered him to open the safe. This he did, and they helped themselves to two packages of money containing $5000 and and $15,000 respectively and made their escape. The money was part of a consignment of $50,000 sent from Denver to Cripple Creek, the remainder of which was in the safe, but was not found.

Officers are scouring the country for the robbers.

THE AMOUNT PLACED AT $55,000.

Denver Police Believe That Sum Was Taken at Colorado Springs.

DENVER, Nov. 16.—It is believed at police headquarters in this city that the amount of money stolen from the Wells-Fargo company at Colorado Springs is $55,000 instead of $20,000 as given out at the time of the robbery. The officials of the company are extremely reticent. No tangible clew to the thieves has yet been found.

Howgate's Case Affirmed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The district court of appeals has affirmed the decision of Judge McComas, in the case of Captain H. W. Howgate, convicted of forgery and falsifying of accounts. FIFTEEN DEAD BODIES.

Result of the Trolleycar Accident At Cleveland.

Great Crowds Thronged the Place of the Wreck and Heartrending Scenes Were Witnessed by the Vast Multitude—August Rogers Is Charged With the Accident and Is Held In Jail.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—The people of this city stood appalled yesterday when they realized the full horror of the terrible accident which occurred Saturday evening when a trolleycar loaded with people went through the draw on the big central viaduct. It was the worst accident that ever happened in this city and the story of how the motorcar loaded with men, women and children had plunged through an open draw straight down 100 feet into the river was told over and over again. The first reports of the disaster have been verified in every particular, with the possible exception of the number of victims, which is a trifle smaller than was at first supposed.

The work of rescuing the bodies of the victims has gone on steadily since 9 o'clock Saturday evening, and it is now believed that nothing more can be done until the last bit of wrecking has been removed from the river.

The scenes about the river while the work of rescue was being prosecuted were pathetic in the extreme, the thousands of people who had assembled waiting with bated breath for the disery of bodies. It was a sad crowd, and out of respect for the unfortunate dead but very little noise was made. Occasionally the wild scream of a frantic woman who believed someone dear to her was among the unfortunate ones would echo over the flats, only to be taken up at a distance by some other woman whose heart was breaking over her loss.

It was almost impossible to get to the river. It was impossible to work with any system. The crowd pushed its way as near the scene as possible and the efforts of a large force of police to maintain order were almost in vain. It was with great difficulty that a body when recovered was taken to one of the dead wagons. Four bodies were found almost at the same time. They were placed on stretchers and the soleman march to the ambulances started. Every few feet some interested woman would step out from the crowd, peer into the face of a body as it passed and "It's not him, thank God," she would say. And so the sad procession moved on.

As the body of a young boy was taken from the fireboat an old lady nearly fell into the river in her anxiety to see the face of the dead boy. She would not be put back. She threw herself on the body, looked on the face and cried: "Thank God." Falling upon her knees, she raised her voice to heaven and prayed as only a mother could under the circumstances. Pressing around her were anywhere from 1000 to 5000 people. Those who could see her raised their hats and not a few joined in her prayer.

All the time the search was going on cars kept running over the viaduct. Both rails from the west to the east approach of the bridge were blocked with people. In the center of the bridge men, women and children went this way and that, screaming, jostling each other, women tearing their hair and calling upon God to save their dear ones. Women fainted and were trampled under foot by the mad rush and insane crowd. It was impossible to keep any kind of order and the effort was finally abandoned. It was a crowd with a common grief. Not one of the multitude but knew that perhaps a brother, mother, father or sister was at the moment lying cold in death at the bottom of the river.

Fifteen dead bodies have been recovered and as far as known only two more persons are missing, but there may be others. The missing are: Miss Saurenheimer and Matthew Callahan.

The following is the list of the killed:

James McLaughlin, baseball player.
Henry W. Mecklenberg, tailor.
Edward Hoffman, conductor.
Mrs. John A. Saurenheimer.
Miss Bessie Davis, teacher in Sackett school.
Harry W. Foster, clerk for Root & McBride company.
Mrs. Minnie C. Brown.
Curt Lohne.
Mrs. A. W. Hoffman, 30 years old.
Harvey Hoffman 7 years old.
Mrs. Martha A. Palmer.
Marie Mitchen, 21 years old, domestic.
Augusta Sarinski.
Gertie Hoffman
Louis F. Huls, mailcarrier.

The diver succeeded finally in fastening a chain to the motor's trucks and they were raised from the river. The bed of the stream was then dragged, but no more bodies were found. The search was then given up and all wreckage removed.

Arrangements have been made for the funerals of the victims, nearly all of which will occur tomorrow.

A charge of manslaughter has been made against August Rodgers, the motorman, and he is held in jail. The people do not blame him with the accident as much as they do Ed Hoffman, the dead conductor.

Noted Minister Dead.

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 14.—Rev. Samuel Ashton Keen, the noted evangelist and author, and widely known in legions circles throughout the States, is dead, aged 88.

The Democrat Supplement.

McKINNEY, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 21, 1895.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. Lucius Robertson and bride of Tennessee are visiting his parents in this city. He will fill his father's pulpit at the Baptist church next Sunday.

Oscar Goddard, assistant superintendent of the Christian Sunday school, makes a very efficient superintendent, which position he is filling during the temporary absence of Plummer Harris.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Thursday, 28th, at 10:30 a. m. Rev. S. W. Crutcher preaching the sermon. All the pastors of the city will unite in this service.

Eld. Johnson of Arkansas, who is visiting his brother-in-law E. H. Floyd of near Trinity, preached Sunday morning at Zion church 4 miles east of McKinney.

The Methodist Sunday school re-elected its old corps of officers for another year, Sunday, to-wit: J. L. Todd, assistant superintendent; Miss Myrtie Berger, secretary; Bob Chambers, treasurer; Miss Tony Berger, organist.

The Christian church has employed Eld. S. W. Crutcher as pastor another year. We are glad to note this as Bro. Crutcher has a host of friends here who will be glad to know that he will stay in McKinney.

Next Sunday week a special old-folks service will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian church in this city to which all persons who have advanced beyond the morning of life are especially invited. The songs, sermon and entire services will be pertinent to the occasion and an interesting, impressive season will be had.

A splendid program was rendered at the Christian church on last Sunday night by the Y. P. S. C. E. Mrs Kate Bronson of Dallas was present and added largely to the success of the exercises by singing some beautiful solos. Mrs, B. is indeed a splendid singer.

Prof. Horn's address was grand, showing the growth of the Y. P. S. C. E. which has attained the enormous membership of 2½ millions.

Boy's Arm Broken.

Sunday, while some little boys were playing around a small broncho in M. W. Younger's barnyard on his farm a few miles northeast of McKinney, one of their number, Frank Catenhead, 5 years old, had his arm broken by a savage kick from the wily animal.

The Central Hotel is centrally located and a popular catering house. Give it a trial when in McKinney. Mrs. A. C. Cheek, proprietress.

Disasterous Fire Narrowly Averted.

Monday afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in and all McKinney flocked into the streets to learn that the oil mill was on fire. Great volumes of black smoke were issuing from the roof of the seed house almost before the alarm was given and the city teams being at work in the suburbs of town what might have been a disastrous conflagration was only averted by the prompt use of appliances at hand by employes of mill, however the engine and hook and ladder boys were on hand in a remarkably short time considering the doubly long run they had to make by the horses belonging to the department being used for other purposes. Slight damage was done the roof and belts by the fire, and water damaged the feedstuff some. This narrow escape from destruction of so important an enterprise to our city was very fortunate for both stockholders and the large force of laborers now at work.

DEATHS.

Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kimbrough died Nov. 15.

Seven year old daughter of Mr. Henry died in McKinney, Nov. 15, of fever.

Mondo Davis, aged 53 years, died Nov. 17, of pneumonia fever.

Clinton Burks, aged 25 years, died Nov. 8, of slow fever.

S. E. Marriott, aged 40 years, died Nov. 18, of pneumonia fever.

Infant of Lee Roberts died Nov. 18.

Rodger P. Quisenberry, aged 28 years, died at the residence of his father, R. . Quisenberry, at Foncine, Friday Nov. 15, after a long siege of typhoid fever. Rodger was raised in the community where he died and had many friends in McKinney and surrounding country who were shocked to hear of his untimely death. He was a young man of exemplary habits, industrious and a good citizen. THE DEMOCRAT sorrows with the heart-broken parents, brothers and sisters in this visitation of death which so rudely robs them of a dutiful son and a manly brother.

Boy's Reform School.

Alderman J. H. Webster, of Dallas, was in the city this week and lectured at Heard's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights in the interest of the Boys' Reform School of his city. The noted Burns boys, who formerly resided with their parents in McKinney, were in Mr. Webster's employ and discoursed excellent music with their horns.

Conquest of Corporations.

The Fort Worth Packing House has been gobbled up by a Chicago corporation which is licking its chops and scanning the universe for more prey with which to gorge its unholy appetite.

Cam Tucker Acquitted

The jury in the case of the state vs Cam Tucker, charged with the murder of an old German peddler, named S. Dreben, near Wylie in July, 1887, returned a verdict of acquittal Saturday evening. The case was an interesting one in several respects.

Soon after the commission of the crime Tucker was arrested and given a habeas corpus trial before Judge Head, then district judge, and dismissed for lack of evidence against him. J. C. Connor, an illiterate young fellow, claims that he was fishing on the creek near by and saw Tucker commit the crime, but under threats against his life he refused to say anything about it then and left the country, being absent most of the time for 8 years afterward. However, Connor had told a party about 7 years ago about his seeing the murder, but the officers had never succeeded in getting hold of him to make out a new case against Tucker until a few months ago.

On the stand Connor became badly confused and crossed himself several times. States Attorney Mangum, having assisted in the defense of Tucker at his first trial, was disqualified to represent the state in the present case and W. C. Jones, G. E. Carpenter and A C. Wilmeth were appointed by Judge Dillard as prosecutors who were assisted by Attorney Morris, of Terrel, whose services were engaged by a son of the murdered man.

Tucker was defended by G. R. Smith, J. A. Evans, J. M. Pearson and W. S, Terrel.

Carry a Bottle

Of our Spanish Olives or a bottle of Tomato Catsup or one of King's Salad Dressing to your wife but don't do it unless you are prepared to repeat the operation.

If its a can you prefer to carry, why we have some dozens of different articles put up in that useful recepticle that you can carry one at a time (or all at a time if you are feeling strong), or, better still, have us send you up—well say a half dozen Tomatos as a necessity and a half dozen Peaches as a luxury.

Yours truly,
T. J. MELTON.

More Cotton Missing.

On counting the cottonbales in Barnett's gin yard at Princeton, Tuesday morning, two more bales of cotton belonging to Alma Wilson were missing, besides the one stolen two weeks ago from the same yard. Cotton thieving in Collin county has been more rampant this season than ever before known.

Best Family Medicine.

Mr. C. N. Jones, Girard, Ala., says, May 16th, 1885: "I was suffering from catarrh in the head and was cured by King's Royal Germeteur. We keep it all the time, and believe that it is the best family medicine on the market to-day."

Germeteur suits all ages in the home. It is so pleasant to take that all like it. It is so harmless that the tenderest babe and most delicate invalids are always safe in using it.

It cures when all else fails. New package, large bottle, 108 doses, $1. For sale by Smith Bros.

The wind was never busier than now, making its own harps and setting them to myriad keys, singing, sighing and sometimes moaning.

Eld. Charles Cannedy preached Sunday at eleven and at night Nov. 10, and left an appointment for the second Sunday in December.

Rev. Hudman, a Baptist evangelist, occupied the pulpit last Sunday.

Joel S. Graves will be the Methodist pastor on this circuit for the next conference year. His first appointment will be December 1.

At a meeting of the officers of the M. E. church at Wilson's Chapel last Friday night, the advisability of building a parsonage on this circuit was discussed, and it was decided to appoint a committee to circulate a subscription list to ascertain if the necessary funds could be raised. Princeton was decided upon as the most central point for building, and if the movement succeeds work will begin immediately. Mr. Wm. Monroe, in company with Bro. Graves, was in our village Salurday and some forty dollars was subscribed. There are five appointments on this circuit and if each congregation will contribute $40 enough can be raised to build a neat cottage.

HILL.

Handwriting on the wall.

The democratic vote in the late elections in Philadelphia was the lowest it has polled for thirty-two years, and the Times, a democratic organ says it is "a grave question as to what apology the democratic leaders should offer for the continued existence of the party."

The so-called democratic party of today has accomplished its last treachery. It has been stamped with the brand, arch traitor of all traitors to the people known to political history.

Nationallv it has run its course and will exist only awhile longer to cast its withering blight over scattering localities.

North Texas Conference

The North Texas conference of the M. E. Church South, which adjourned last week in Gainesville, received the following reports:

The committee on church property reported: There are 299½ churches, increase 21½, value $443,985, increase $44,708 There are 129 parsonages, an increase of 7½ Value of parsonages $116,902, increase $12 624. Value of district parsonages $12,380. Value of other church property $80,615, an increase of $7 675. There are 22 pastoral charges without parsonages and two districts.

The statistical committee reported that there were 267 preaches and 47,534 members in the conference and 1150 infants and 2,680 adults baptized: 139 Epworth Leagues with a membership of 5,524; 329 Sunday schools, 2,742 teachers and 24,488 scholars.

Rev. D. J. Martin, the newly appointed pastor of the Methodist church in this city, is now domiciled in the parsonage. He will preach his first sermon Sunday.

A correspondent wants to know if the Iconoclast is a populist paper. The official organ of the Texas ministers has not planted its Trilbys on the Omaha platform. Still we are free to confess that were Thomas Jefferson and Jesus Christ on earth to-day they would be populists. Pontius Pilot would be seeking office under a republican administration and Cagliostro running for governor on the democratic ticket.—Brann's Iconoclast.

THE Texas School Journal says the state funds will not maintain the schools for six months without increase of tax rate.

IF you want to see an all-wool-and-a-yard-wide free silver man just become acquainted with our friend Tom Muse who is a first-class farmer living a few miles northwest of McKinney. In conversation with the editor of The Democrat last Saturday he did not mince matters in giving his opinion of the goldbug-Cleveland element of his (the democratic) party. He declared that the masses of his party would stand no more foolishness—that if his party goes back upon its traditions in the coming contest it will sink out of sight. Mr. Muse is an earnest advocate of what he thinks is right and can be depended upon to do the right thing when the struggle is on.

Col. Robert Ingersoll once said in a speech in Indiana that if Kentucky was ever carried by the republican party he would believe that there is a hell. The newspapers are now calling on him to know how he stands, but the colonel simply replies that he had under-estimated the intelligence of the Kentucky people.

The French say "it is the impossible that happens." This has proved to be the case with the Mount Lebanon Shakers. The whole scientific world has been laboring to cure dyspepsia, but every effort seemed to meet with defeat. The suffering from stomach troubles has become almost universal. Multitudes have no desire for food and that which they do eat causes them pain and distress. Sleepless nights are the rule and not the exception, and thousands of sufferers have become discouraged. The Shakers of Mount Lebanon recently came to the front with their new Digestive Cordial, which contains not only a food already digested, but is a digester of food.

It promptly relieves nearly all forms of indigestion. Ask your druggist for one ot their books.

HIS FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. J. L. Morris Closes His Pastorate in McKinney With Words of Love and Wisdom to His Flock.

When we asunder part,
It gives us inward pain;
But we shall still be joined in heart,
And hope to meet again.

Sunday night when Rev. J. L. Morris announced the opening hymn, of which the above is a verse, a sea of faces confronted the loved pastor of the Methodist church who was to deliver his farewell sermon on this occasion. The spacious church was taxed beyond its seating capacity and interested listeners stood unmoved throughout the entire delivery of the impressive discourse and drank in with bated breaths the eloquent words of love, of cheer and kindly exhortation as they fell from the lips of the popular preacher.

"Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace and the God of love and peace shall be with you," were the words of his peculiarly appropriate text. He told his hearers that when good-bye was to be said he could not think of anything else to utter, but the scope of his theme was fully comprehended and his reputation for magnetic, spiritual pulpit oratory was sustained. In the course of his remarks he said that he had preached about 350 sermons during his ministry in McKinney and received 180 new additions into the church. His appeal to those who had strayed from the fold during his care of the flock to come back was touching. He earnestly commended his successor to the love and co-operation of all Methodists and Christians, concluding with an eloquent peroration invoking the blessings of the God of comfort, peace and love upon McKinney and her hospitable people. The great throng joined their voices in singing "God be with you till we meet again" and many eyes were moistened in tears as one by one the members said a final adieu to their departing pastor whom all had learned to love and all delighted to follow.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893. —I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. Testimony from the Mayor of Sequin, Tex.

SEQUIN, TEX., January 14, 1893.
MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have tried your P. P. P. for a disease of the skin, usually known as skin cancer, of thirty years' standing, and found great relief; it purifies the blood and removes all irritation from the seat of the disease and prevents any spreading of the sores. I have taken five or six bottles and feel confident that another course will effect a cure. It has also relieved me from indigestion and stomach troubles. Yours truly,

A NEGRO LYNCHED.

Taken From Jail By a Mob For Assaulting and Murdering a Girl.

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 18.—James Goings, who assaulted Miss Lillie Jones at the home of Hamilton Geisbert, near this city, Saturday, was taken from the jail by a mob of 300 men last night and hanged to to a tree.

A dispatch reached the city about midnight saying that the woman had died from the cuts and beating inflicted by the negro and this infuriated the men who had gathered in the streets discussing the outrage. A mob was quickly gotten together and unmasked, but armed with revolvers, the men marched to the jail. They had previously broken into a machineshop in the neighborhood of the jail and procured sledges, crowbars and files. They made at once for the door on the west wing of the jail and began to batter upon it.

Fully 20 shots were fired from the window above by Sheriff Zimmerman and his deputies, but the mob paid no attention to them and went on with their work. The jailbell was rung to summon assistance, but none came. In 20 minutes the large door panels gave way under the heavy blows and the mob burst into the corridor. They quickly overcame the slight resistance of the officers on the inside and found Goings cowering and cringing in his cell.

The trembling wretch was seized and dragged out in his nightclothes and sockfeet. Goings was led out amid the howls of the crowd, the rope placed around his neck and he was hurried down the road to his place of doom. He protested his innocence as they dragged him along and begged them not to kill him. He was promptly recoguized by a number of men who knew him and the mob did not hesitate in its work.

Arriving at the tree the negro was asked to confess but this he would not do. Two officers of the Salvation Army asked to be allowed to pray with him and their request was granted. The Lord's prayed was then repeated and the negro and most of the crowd joined in.

Goings' feet and hands were then tied and the rope was drawn around his neck. "Let him go," was shouted and quick as a flash he was jerked from his feet and hung dangling in the air six feet from the ground.

The mob, during the process of lynching, observed order. No shots were fired. A member of the mob made a brief speech in which he said that they were with the unfortunate wretch not in a spirit of malice, but to make an example of him and teach his race that they must let the women of Frederick county alone.

The assault for which Goings suffered death was a cruel and dastardly one. Miss Jones had 13 cuts and stab wounds on her body where he hacked her with a knife and razor. She says he asked her for something to eat and when she gave it to him he said "I will give you a dollar." She screamed and ran down about 50 feet into the garden where he overtook her, knocking her down and cut her, also crushing her nose.

The field in which the negro was lynched is the same spot the negro Biggus was lynched in November, 1887. After watching the body swing in the air a few minutes the crowd left it dangling there and disappeared.

RAILROAD ROBBERY EAST.

Pennsylvania Train Held Up by Four Men In Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—An express train consisting of four cars on the Pennsylvania railroad was held up by four men at 10 Friday night near Morrisville, Pa., across the river from Trenton, N. J. The train left Jersey City at 8 and Trenton at 10 o'clock. Morrisville is a little town. It was said that that the robbers only got into one car. It appears that they knew something about the makeup of the train, for it is said that the car they broke into was a money car. Apparently they encountered no serious obstacle in the trainmen. The robbers had time to get out a number of packages. They then left the train and made off. No one was killed and none of the robbers were caught.

At a late hour the Trenton police learned that the four robbers were tramps. They were armed with revolvers and knives, with which they overpowered the express messenger. The scene of the robbery is a lonesome place about three miles out of Morrisville, Pa.

At the Pennsylvania railway station Trenton employes declare there was no holdup, but that the trouble was due to a few tramps who were stealing a ride, and who were dislodged by train hands.

POOR COAST DEFENSE.

SENATOR SQUIRE TURNS HIMSELF LOOSE ON THAT SUBJECT.

He Says the Old Cannon Stands No Show Against the Modern Ships of War—The Senator Is Not at All Pleased With the Condition of Alaska's Boundary Dispute.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 16.—Senator Watson C. Squire, chairman of the senate committee on coast defense, who will, within a few days leave for the national capital, has very decided views concerning the Alaskan boundary dispute. He is by no means pleased with the present outlook.

"This country must wake up immemediately to the knowlege of its defenseless condition," he said. "Several years ago the senate committee on coast defense recommended the establishment of a cannon factory on the Pacific coast. I reported the bill from the committee and supported it in an earnest speech on that subject. Very few people are aware of the fact that the old fortifications and the old cannon mounted on our seacoast forts are absolutely useless against modern ships of war. They are about as effective as a pistol would be against a Gatling gun."

When asked in what light he regarded the action of the British government in stationing police along the Alaskan boundary, Senator Squire said.

"I do not know what friendly object England can have in sending an armed body of men there at this time." Both nations are engaged in an effort to definitely locate the international boundary line. If the present unfavorably developments continue I shall certainly call the attention of congress to the matter at an early date and in no uncertain tone."

WILL NOT HAVE IT.

Whitney Declares He Would Not Accept the Presidential Nomination.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ex-Secretary William C. Whitney was seen at the horse show and asked about being a presidential possibility Friday night. Mr. Whitney was thoughtful for a moment and then said:

"I wish it understood that I am not a candidate for the nomination at present, and will not be. My friends know my desire on this subject and will act accordingly. It is an honor to represent a nation which cannot be too highly esteemed. I will not say that I would not be pleased if I were president, but I will not allow myself to be made a candidate under any consideration. I do not want office of any kind."

"Nothing would induce you to change your opinion?"

"Absolutely nothing. My mind is made up on this point, and I do not know of anything that can change it."

"Your friends have used your name as a possible candidate."

"Yes, it has been mentioned with others, but I hope now that my name will be dropped and not be mentioned in any way in connection with the presidency. I prefer to remain in private life, and those who know me are aware of the reasons."

Ingalls on Politics.

The purification of politics is an iridescent dream. Government is force. Politics is a battle for supremacy. Parties are the armies. The decalogue and and golden rule have no place in political campaigns. The object is success. To defeat the antagonist and expel the party in power is the purpose. In war it is lawful to deceive the adversary, to hire Hessians, to purchase mercenaries, to mutilate, to kill, to destroy. The commander who lost a battle through the activity of his moral nature would be the derision and jest of history. This modern cant about the corruption in politics is fatiguing in the extreme. It proceeds from the tea custard and syllabub dilettanteism, the frivolous and desultory sentimentalism of epicures.

Walton at Lockhart.

At Lockhart recently Major W. M. Walton was making a populist speech at the court house. There was a large audience present. About the middle of his speech an old gray-headed gentleman over 70 years of age arose and requested him to stop.

"All right," said Maj. Walton.

The old gentleman said, "I have voted the democratic ticket straight all my life, but from now on I am with you." (Applause.)

Another old patriarch rose and said: I am with you, too," (More cheers.)

A third one arose and said: "Them's my sentiments." (Repeated cheers.)

Major Walton became so enthusiastic that he simply stood and played the Blind Tom act by clapping his hands and cheering als .

After the applause had ended the Major continued his speech and many were added to the fold.—Vindicator.

The Disreputable "Ape."

If you had to rely on the Associated Press and old party papers for news relating to the vote cast by the populists in the several states where elections were held this fall, you would not know there was any people's party in existence in Iowa, Kentucky, Mississippi and other states. In Kentucky the populist vote is entirely ignored, while in Mississippi, where no republican ticket was in the field, but where the democrats are confronted with the most formidable enemy they have had for years—the people s party, the impression is given out that the late contest down there was between the two old parties. This is no mere oversight nor accident, but is a part of plutocracy's devilish scheme to keep the people in ignorance of the real strength and movements of the reform forces, the power and influence of which that element feels but dare not acknowledge by even telling the truth about them. —Sound Money.

A Gigantic Crime.

On February 21, 1878, J. G. Carlisle in the house of representatives during the the discussion of the silver question, said:

"I know that the world's stock of precious metals is none too large, and I see no reasn to apprehend that it will ever become so. Mankind will be fortunate indeed, if the annual production of gold and silver coin shall keep pace with the annual increase of population, commerce and industry. According to my views of the subject, the conspiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe, to destroy by legislation and otherwise, from three-sevenths to one-half the metallic money of the world is the most gigantic crime of this or any other age. The consummation of any uch scheme would ultimately entail more misery on the human race than all the wars, pestilences and famines, that ever occurred in the history of the world. The absolute and instantaneous destruction of half the entire movable property of the world, including houses, ships, railroads and all other appliances for carrying on commerce, while it would be felt more sensibly at the moment, would not produce anything like the prolonged distress and disorganization of society that must inevitably result from the permanent annihilation of one-half the metallic money of the world."

This is the way he talks now:

"Capital and labor combined are the only producers of wealth and the constant tendency in this country is to give labor more and capital less out of the proceeds of their joint product."—Secretary John G. Carlisle, speech before Massachusetts reform club, Boston, October 12, 1895.

Spring Hill Populist Club.

At its regular meeting last week the Spring Hill Populist Club adopted a resolution strongly endorsing the Omaha platform.

Labor Strikes Ended.

In a recent interview Eugene V. Debs, the imprisoned labor leader, said in substance:

"The time of strikes is past: laboring men must strike at the ballot box. A laboring man who votes for any of the old parties is a slave who is voting the ticket of his master and forging his own chains. I am for silver, but the coin age of silver is no issue because it would change nothing in this damnable industrial system that makes slaves of the majority of people. The complete overthrow of the present wage slavery and the establishment of the co-operative commonwealth will afford a thorough and permanent help."
